

Did you know...?

We buy multiple copies of popular titles, so even if the wait list appears to be very long, the wait won't be as long as it might appear.

We try to keep the ratio between number of copies and number of patrons on the waitlist as low as the budget will allow. And many patrons read the ebooks quickly and return them early, also making the wait shorter.

You can return eBooks (and some audiobooks) early.

This means that, even if you have the limit of 3 ebooks checked out and have read them all, you can return one or more of them early and be able to check out another to read! (You can return audiobooks early if you downloaded them to a mobile device using the Overdrive Media Console.) Check with the librarian for instructions on returning books early, or see the WILBOR Guide "Returning WILBOR Books Early." (Check with your librarian, or go to: <http://tinyurl.com/7khx97m>)

You can limit your search for books to only those with copies available, so if you want a book to read right now, you can easily find an available book.

You can do that by checking the box next to "Only show available titles" below the quick search box at the top of the left column on the WILBOR website, or at the bottom of the Advanced Search form.

A screenshot of the "Quick Search" form. The form has a yellow header with the text "Quick Search". Below the header is a search input field, a "Go" button, a dropdown menu currently showing "all", a checkbox labeled "Only show available titles", and a link for "Advanced search...".